

Equip Your Students for the Future

This worksheet will help you brainstorm ideas so that you are ready to equip your students for the future.

What Is Your Current Reality?

5 Areas to Develop World Changers
Find a Community of Faith	Faith and Work Integration	Steward Your Resources	Integrate Spiritual Practices	Involvement in Mission and Ministry

Which of the five areas do you feel strongest in? _____

Which of the five areas do you feel weakest in? _____

Find a Community of Faith

Instructions: Make a list of local churches you could invite students to. Be ready to share these with students who are looking for a local church to join:

_____	_____
_____	_____
_____	_____

Faith and Work Integration

Leveraging Alumni and Ministry Partners

Instructions: List some alumni or ministry partners whose stories you could share:

_____	_____
_____	_____
_____	_____

Instructions: Pick one person from your list and either invite them to share at an existing event this semester or create an informal gathering where they could come share their story.

Intentional Conversations around Field of Study

Instructions: Pick one student or faculty member to start having intentional conversations with about their integration of faith and study: _____

Here are some questions to start with:

- How does your current academic journey resonate with God's Big Story?
- What vision might God have for your field of study?
- What are some conflicts or challenges in your field from a faith perspective?
- How do you perceive God's redemptive role in your profession?

Host Discussions around a Major or Field of Study

Instructions: Create a list of your students and their majors (if you don't know, then ask!).

Student Name	Major	Student Name	Major
_____	_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____	_____

Instructions: Identify the most common major in your community and plan a gathering this semester. If you don't have a critical mass of students yet, pick a popular major on campus (you can also google this information!) and host a gathering for interested students. You could use the questions from above as discussion starters.

Steward Your Resources

Jesus' Lordship over Finances

Are you already talking to students about how Jesus is Lord over their finances? If not, how could you begin to introduce this topic this semester?

Allocation and Tracking

Are you currently teaching students about budgeting? If not, how can you begin to practice that this semester?

Spending, Giving, and Saving

What is an activity you can try as a community to practice giving? How will you introduce it to your community? How will you hold each other accountable?

Integrate Spiritual Practices

Does your community talk regularly about practicing Sabbath? If not, how can you start integrating Sabbath into your community?

Involvement in Mission and Ministry

What are some local places you could encourage your students to volunteer at?

GAPS

Are you already helping your graduate students through their transition? If so, is GAPS a part of it? If not, how can you begin to do this?
